The Seminar was organised to make the outgoing students aware of the research process and scopes. In near future they are going to face the challenges of the Academic Research. This seminar gave them clarity of the way of presenting the research paper in any State, National or International Seminar in future. They understood the value of organised though-process to implement any idea in the research. The psychological fear and pressure in them found an outlet because they realised whole process of presentation. This seminar would facilitate the students with the capacity of expressing their thought on a particular topic in terms of verbal and body languages. The process of confidence building in order to speak up in front of a larger audience can also be incorporated in the personality of the students. Moreover, the discipline of self which they have learned during the seminar would make them way more calm, composed and energetic on the way to research.

10. Conclusion (with desired outcome, actual achievement, suggestions): The Seminar was a successful event as the students expressed their gratification with the learning. They were enriched with the ideas. They also desired to organise such seminars in their way to future goal. The newly admitted students of the Department felt enthusiastic about the seminar and they also desired to organise such kind of a seminar while they would be there in 6th Semester. The overall ambience of the discussion suggests the interest of the students in the participation of such Seminar.
